

SHATTER SALES GOALS!

Close more deals with Seismic and Salesvue.

Take the world's first Salesforce® native sales engagement platform, add an award-winning sales enablement platform, and crush the competition.

A Powerful Partnership With Powerful Insights. Here are some of the top ways that Seismic and Salesvue work to your advantage:

- Instant actionable insights. You get engagement metrics on every item viewed, so you know which content is best at engaging leads throughout the entire sales cycle. With instant notifications for their viewing activity including pages viewed, time spent, and more, you can follow up immediately with the hot leads.
- Increased efficiency. With less time spent looking for content, sales reps have more time to engage directly with your leads. In addition to phone and email tasks in Salesvue, Seismic tasks are available with a pre-loaded tracking link to specific content in Seismic. Plus, reps can easily designate the result of a call to be a follow-up Seismic email, and they can send Seismic content to multiple contacts at once.
- Better engagement. Whether you're prospecting or nurturing current clients, your marketing and sales teams can work seamlessly together to engage your audience. With everything in one place and the ability to automate tasks and create processes, you can make sure both leads and customers get the exact material they need at the right time. And more importantly, you can tell whether they are viewing it.

Easy to use convenience

Create and upload content that will be available to send in a Salesvue email with Seismic tracking.

More targeted communications

Create the perfect combination of cadence and content to nurture your leads and contacts.

Measurable engagement

Get engagement notifications and insights for every lead or contact and every document, so you can adjust your strategy and close more deals faster.

Learn more about Seismic at seismic.com. And request a personalized demo to see how Salesvue can help you crush it.

Seismic is a sales and marketing enablement software that unites your marketing and sales teams in delivering the most compelling stories throughout your buyers' journeys. With Seismic's insightful metrics, you can improve the buyer experience resulting in faster deal cycles, higher win rates, and more efficient and effective content management.

Salesvue is a Salesforce® native sales engagement platform that enables sales and marketing teams to close more deals. With Salesvue's automated triggers and cadences, one-click dialer and voicemail, email templates, call scripts, telephony suite and mobile app, teams have the ideal sales engagement tool to become more effective and efficient. Meanwhile, sales managers can make better decisions with actionable insights and improve ROI by getting more out of the resources already in place.